

THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
United Church of Christ
JUNE 2016

Friends in Christ:

I was reminded recently about how slowly things can move in the church. In May I received an e-mail announcement about “Souper Bowl Sunday”. Remember? Back in February we joined with congregations around the country in asking worshippers to donate $1 to be used for local hunger relief efforts. We received $358—our largest offering for this cause since we started in 2008. The money we collected here went to the Crisis Center Food Pantry, including our own food distribution site. What we didn’t know until May was that more than 10.4 million in cash and food items was collected and donated to over 5,000 charities nationwide.

Sometimes we don’t know the results of our giving until much later. Sometimes we never know. We give generously to One Great Hour of Sharing and through Church World Service over 28,000 people in Vietnam benefitted from education and hygiene programs; 14,388 refugees from sub-Saharan Africa resettled in the United States last year; more than 10,000 families in Central America are more food secure and resilient to climate change.

News of the fruits of our giving arrives slowly. Our gifts start working right away.

Good things often happen slowly in the church. Summer is slow. Summer is the season of growing—the time when small seeds and blossoms become beautiful plants and flowers. Let these months be a time for growing in all the ways that you give.

Peace,

Bill

God is still speaking,
UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

Please join us on Sunday, June 5, as we show Patrick our appreciation for his work during a special reception after worship.

At its May meeting, the Church Council approved hiring of Chris Nakielski as our new choir director. Chris is a D.M.A. student at the University. Watch for more information about Chris in the July newsletter.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE to register for Vacation Bible School! We have 3 sessions on June 6, 7 and 8 from 9 am to Noon each day for children 4 yrs to 6th grade. There is no cost but lots of fun!! Join us! Registration forms are in Rockwood Hall. Talk to Patte Henderson for more information.

ROCKWOOD HALL ART GALLERY—SUNDAY JUNE 5

On Sunday, June 5, the last day of the Iowa City Arts Festival, Congregational UCC is turning Rockwood Hall into a gallery. We are inviting members and friends who are visual artists and craftspeople to display some of their work that morning. If you are interested in showing some of your work, please talk with Bill Lovin or Nathan Morton or call the church office at 337-4301.

The Iowa Arts Festival is three days of art, music, and food in downtown Iowa City—a fun time for people of all ages. It also affects traffic around the church on Sunday morning. It's a small price to pay for this great event. But please remember that roads will be blocked off and it might take a little longer than usual to get to church on Sunday, June 5. Carpool with friends, bike or walk, or just leave home slightly earlier than usual. Join us for worship, check out our members' artwork, and then head downtown with your family and/or friends.

SPECIAL MUSIC ON JUNE 12

The children who have attended Vacation Bible School will present a special song during the worship on Sunday, June 12. We will also be recognizing the Christian Education Board and Teachers for their dedicated work with the Children's Program over the past year. Please join us for a memorable morning.

JOIN US IN CHILDREN'S CHURCH THIS SUMMER

Families with young children worship at Congregational UCC year round, and we continue to provide a warm welcome and special activities for children throughout the summer months. Volunteers will be staffing our "Children's Church" during the sermon time of worship each week in the summer. As usual, children will be dismissed after the children's message. The Board of CE invites members to enjoy some special time with the children of our church by leading or helping to lead a "Children's Church" session. YOUTH GATHERING—JUNE 17

In the months ahead we're ramping up our youth programming at Congregational UCC. A new confirmation class will start in late August, along with a class for youth in 6th and 7th grade. On June 17, youth who will be in grades 6-9 this coming school year are meeting at the Coralville Performing Arts Center for the 7:30 p.m. performance of In the Heights, Lin-Manuel Miranda's first big musical. The play is about a community on the brink of change, full of hopes, dreams and pressures, where the biggest struggles can be deciding which traditions you take with you, and which ones you leave behind. A diverse cast of area teens perform in this City Circle teen musical. For more information, talk with Bill Lovin.

NAMI CONTRIBUTIONS FROM UCCIC

$85,481 has been raised so far this Spring for the Johnson County chapter of the National Alliance on Mental Illness. 518 intrepid persons walked on a very rainy Saturday. Our Congregational United Christ of Christ virtual (non-walking) team contributed $855.64 of that amount via 21 donors. $30. more went directly to NAMI (inadvertently not credited to our team). All of the money stays in Johnson County to help fund support groups and classes in our community. State financial support for mental health has decreased, so this money is even more important this year. To see more details on the critical services of this organization please go to www.nami.org, click on "Iowa", then on our "Johnson County" affiliate. Thank you to all of you who contributed via our CUCC team.

STRENGTHEN THE CHURCH OFFERINGS

We have received $957 toward the Strengthen the Church offering as of May 22. Last year's offering was $710. An average of all years since 2008 is $733. Thanks to everyone who gave generously.

A NOTE FROM MARY HEININGER

To our Iowa City friends; Thank you for all the beautiful cards which expressed your sympathy and very meaningful messages. Some came from members who used to be there. We love our Iowa City church and rejoice with you in your growth and remodeling. It is kind of home base for our offspring—all graduated from City High. Love, Mary

PRIDE FEST 2016

The Iowa City Pride 2014 Parade will take place on Saturday, June 18, starting at College Green Park at 12 noon. Congregational UCC will have a booth on the Ped Mall during the afternoon. Look for our banners that tell everyone, “No matter who you are or where you are on life’s journey, you are welcome here.” Stop by and see us. If you’d like to help out at our booth, please call the church office—337-4301.

CHURCH COUNCIL APPROVES FUND DESCRIPTIONS

At its May meeting our Church Council approved the latest descriptions of our various church funds. While the entire nine-page document is too large to include in the church newsletter, it can be provided to members through the church office. What follows here is a brief description of our account basis and the types of funds that we have.

The Congregational UCC uses the cash accounting basis in its calendar fiscal year. Each year we calculate current income and expense for the year in our operating budget, then begin anew in the next fiscal year. Any surplus in individual lines is not transferred into the next fiscal year.

If the church has a surplus in the operating budget at December 31, it will increase the General Fund, which represents the Church’s unrestricted general savings, or we may choose to increase Temporary Funds to save for special projects, as planned for in that year’s operating budget. If there is a deficit, the General Fund is decreased.

In order to preserve the institutional memory for funds raised or donated for programs not included in the operating budget, we must place that money in a specific Fund on the Balance Sheet, which records our total assets and liabilities. There we will find all Funds listed and updated as of December 31.

Our church separates Permanent Funds (Section One), which are ongoing and often invested for long-term returns, from Temporary Funds (Section Two), which we plan to use in the near future.

Annual Operating Budget pledges are accounted for in the General Fund. Additional contributions may be directed to other Permanent or Temporary Funds. An application form for use of these other sources is included at the end of the fund descriptions.

ORGAN RECITAL AT UCC

Organist Pablo Gorin will be presenting an organ recital at the Congregational United Church of Christ on Sunday, June 12th at 4 PM. Pablo is a third year doctoral student in organ performance and pedagogy at the University of Iowa. His program will explore the influence that J. S. Bach had on non-organist composers such as Alberto Ginastera, Felix Mendelssohn, and Paul Hindemith. Also on the program will be a collection of miniature pieces by German composer Hugo Distler, a composer whose music — just as with Hindemith’s — suffered persecution by the Nazi regime. The concert is free and open to everyone.

HOUSEWORKS DONATIONS

If you donate items to Houseworks and would like the Church to receive the money from those sold items, be sure to mention the Church when you drop off your donations and let them know our consignor number is 21026.

OUR HISTORY IS UNFOLDING!

As many of you know, members of the Iowa City Congregational UCC are undertaking a project to write a history of the last 50 years of the church, with the intent of completing the history before our 150th anniversary in 2018. A steering committee (composed of Bryan Clemons, John and Randy Fieselmann, Donna Hirst, and Pam Willard) and subject-area committees have been formed to do the work of this endeavor. Excellent progress is being made in extracting significant information from our "archives" (ie: past annual reports and meeting minutes). The book is planned to be a narrative account, using stories from members to illustrate the extensive undertakings and perspectives of this church in our community.

Steering committee members are carrying out in-depth interviews with a number of church members. Those selected so far are people with a long history in the church, having attended and been involved for many years. Others being interviewed are those who have been particularly active with some aspect(s) of church operations, possibly over a shorter time period.

The steering committee recognizes that we may have overlooked some of you whose memories and insights, if shared, would make valuable contributions to the information being collected. Some people are excellent observers who could add interesting points of view. If you are interested in being interviewed and haven't been called, please contact Jane Murphy (murphyjane51@gmail.com or tel: 351-9079).

Finally, the committee would like everyone's help in our quest for personal information. Please take some time to write down an anecdote or story that may be added to our collection. It can be about a crucial event, a turning point, a humorous situation, a saying that you thought particularly meaningful or a person you admire(d) --- whatever you wish. These ideas are only examples to be used as springboards for creating your own unique contribution. All such submissions will be included in an archive associated with the book, and some may be used in the 2017 church history publication. We will appreciate all contributions and urge you to participate. Submissions should be sent to Jane at the above email address or can be relayed in person, in writing or by phone as appropriate.

ToGather Together SEEKS FUNDS

TGTg is seeking funds to purchase school supplies to support children & youth in Johnson County. If you are interested in providing monetary donations please send a check to "ToGather Together" at P.O. Box 2025, Iowa City, IA 52244. "When Breath Becomes Air"

By Paul Kalanithi

At the age of 36, almost completing 10 year's worth of training as a neurosurgeon, Paul Kalanithi was diagnosed with stage IV lung cancer. One day he was a doctor treating patients, and the next day he was a patient struggling to live. "When Breath Becomes Air" tells Kalanithi's transformation from a medical student, into a neurosurgeon at Stanford, and finally into a patient himself and a new father confronting his own mortality.

What makes life worth living in the face of death? What do you do when your future flattens out into a perpetual present? What does it mean to have a new life to nurture as your own life fades away? These are some of the questions Dr. Kalanithi wrestles with in this profoundly moving memoir.

Dr. Kalanithi died in March 2015 while working on this book, yet his words live on as a guide and gift to us all. "When Breath Becomes Air is an unforgettable, life-affirming reflection on the challenge of facing death and on the relationship between doctor and patient, from a brilliant writer who became both. Dr. Kalanithi's memoir is proof that the dying are the ones who have the most to teach us about life."

Paul Kalanithi was a neurosurgeon and writer, growing up in Kingman, Ariz. He graduated from Stanford Univ with a BA and MA in english literature and a BA in human biology. He graduated cum laude from the Yale School of Medicine and returned to Stanford to complete his residency in neurological surgery and postdoctoral fellowship in neuroscience. He died in March 2015 and is survived by his wife and daughter.

"Ben Draws Trouble"

By Matt Davies

Our children are filled with enthusiasm. Unfortunately, this enthusiasm often shows itself at inappropriate times. The hero of this book finds that, with the help of an insightful teacher, his talent and passion can be both useful and appreciated.

“The hero of Ben Rides On is back, and though he still rides his beloved bicycle, it turns out that his other passion is drawing. Ben constantly doodles in his special sketchbook, even in math class. His interests are typical for most third graders—dinosaurs, monsters, motorcycles, dragons, and spaceships—he especially enjoys sketching his teachers and fellow students. Inevitably, Ben loses the sketchbook, and his classmates get their hands on it. Fortunately for Ben, his teacher recognizes Ben’s talent, and in a neat little plot twist, asks for his help making sets for the school play instead of taking him to the principal’s office. Davies’ signature cartoon style is as hilarious as ever, . . . This wonderful follow-up will especially appeal to young artists and fans of Ben’s previous adventure, but it’s a fun choice for everyone.”—School Library Journal, STARRED REVIEW, K-Gr 3

“Ben draws during art class, but also during writing and math. His teachers don’t always appreciate his off topic pictures of sharks, spaceships, and dinosaurs. One afternoon, he loses his sketchbook. Distraught, Ben arrives at school the next morning and finds his classmates looking at his drawings. His teacher leafs through the book, lingering over an exaggerated portrait of himself. Next, he silently leads the boy to the auditorium, where he asks him to design the sets for the school play. The concluding illustration shows Ben smiling as his 20-foot-tall sharks steal the show.

Through the succinct text and emotionally charged illustrations, children will feel Ben’s panic and anguish over losing his sketchbook, his fear of punishment for the caricatures, and his satisfaction at the happy ending. The ink drawings, washed with gentle colors, are full of energy and expression.”—Booklist
